Raytheon Options 130 Acres

The Raytheon Company announced this week that it has taken an option on a large tract of land as a possible new building site.

This was encouraging in view of the fact that early in March, the firm sent a letter to Chairman Philip K. Allen of the board of selectmen urging caution on the part of the voters at town meeting in making appropriations predicated on Raytheon's expanding here.

In its announcement of the option deal, the firm repeated that no decision has yet been made on whether or not there will be any expansion in Andover and said that no immediate decision is expected.

The statement issued by the company is as follows:

"Raytheon Company has taken an option on 130 acres of land at the southeast corner of River Rd. and Route 93 in Andover as a possible site for a manufacturing facility. The land is owned by Lilly Construction Company, Inc.

"According to Joseph Glasser, manager of Raytheon's Andover plant, 'the option on this piece of

Blanket Extension Turned Down

An effort to have a blanket extension of the closing hour for bar service on Friday nights at local country clubs and other places where dances are held was turned down by the selectmen Monday night.

Selectman Roger W. Collins said the matter was on the agenda at his request. He said it was intended to offset late calls from such establishments for extensions on specific nights.

Selectman Robert Watters opposed the idea since he said it would not pertain to all places that sold liquor and therefore would be discriminatory.

Selectman William Stewart said

Walter S. Perkins

New Principal Has Many Interests

The South School's principal-elect, Walter S. Perkins, is a Massachusetts native who spent four years as a World War II infantryman in the Pacific, studied and travelled in Europe, (hosteling, hiking, and camping), and has spent his adult life as a teacher, as sales representative for a publishing company, and as supervising principal of elementary schools. He is program chairman of the North Shore Elementary Principals' Association and a director of the North Shore Council of the International Reading Association.

Perkins, since 1966 principal of the Machon School in Swampscott, told the TOWNSMAN that he is not a believer in administrating "by executive order." Perkins said he believed that curriculum development must start with the philosophy that teachers must be involved in investigating the "whys" - the long range purpose - of educational programs before they can be expected to carry them out. Perkins feels that it is with inservice programs for teachers that he has been most successful as a principal.

The South School's new head will take over on July 1, when South School Principal Earl Simon begins his duties as principal of the new Bancroft School.

The Perkins family, with five children, live on Brush Hill Rd. in Merrimac. Andover's new elementary principal has been a member of Merrimac's Finance Board for five years, and is currently its chairman. He is also a director of the Northeast Essex Child Guidance Association.

The Perkins family has camped throughout most of the United States and Canada in the past dozen summers and, also recalling Perkins' hostelling days in Europe, they have been a host family for the American Host Foundation for the past five years. Perkins is Publicity Director for the International Committee of Pentucket Regional School.

Perkins graduated from Hamilton High School in 1942, and after

Rogers Brook Job Hit

Rogers Brook came back into the news big this week.

As contractors began to dig up streets and the park at Bartlet and Chestnut Streets, a number of complaints were received not only from residents of the neighborhood but from other sections of the community.

A surprise development came Monday night at the selectmen's meeting when Edward M. Lindholm, 44 Chestnut St. appeared to discuss the work on the brook which began some two weeks ago. He expressed a desire that the brook be maintained with flowing water and not as a trench.

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen explained that the original plans made about eight years ago called for the pipeline, which will carry

Pike School To Present Jazz Concert

The Executive committee of The Parents' Association of The Pike School has announced plans for the presentation of a jazz concert featuring New Orleans type music on the evening of May 25. The concert is a benefit performance for the school and the musicians have been gathered for the occasion by Joseph Robertson, a Lawrence resident with a national reputation as a jazz trombonist.

Musicians will include names well known in jazz circles - Buzzy Drutin on drums has played with bands all over the nation; his brother, Al Drutin, is as well known for his clarinet and saxophone renditions in the New Orleans tradition. George Poor on the cornet, Joe Battaglia on piano, Bob Livingston on bass and tuba, and Mr. Robertson on the trombone complete the instrumental group.

Supplementing the instrumental presentation will be the singing of Jimmy Rushing. Jimmy is a part of jazz lore and a part of jazz in the four cities having most to do with its development - New Orleans, Kansas City, Chicago, and New York. He has toured the entire country, singing with such bands as Benny Goodman and Count Basie. More recently he has appeared in the Savoy Ballroom in New York. His style is identified as much with the swing era in jazz, popularized by Basie and Goodman, as it is with his association with many of the immortals of the early jazz days including Jelly Roll Morton.

The occasion is designed as a benefit for the school, and friends and associates of the school are being invited to serve as sponsors and patrons for the evening. Those who subscribe will be offered two tickets and the privilege of ordering as many additional as they wish for reserved seating. This offering continues through May 14. Beginning on May 15, tickets will be offered for public sale and may be acquired by calling the school's office.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Robert L.V. French, plans to build a New Orleans atmosphere in the Andrews Auditorium at The Pike School with seating arranged at individual tables. The general decor will suggest the informality of an old New Orleans jazz scene. The evening is under the general direction of the Executive Committee of the Parents' Association which includes: Thomas J. Thomas, Dr. Michael J. Kannan, Mrs. Robert L.V. French, Mrs. Harry W. Healey, Mrs. Leon Kutz, and Mrs. Michael Segal.

the brook, to run along the brook bed.

However, the manager said, at some point the plans were changed since running the huge pipes along the brook bed was found not to be feasible and that it would be more expensive than the new plan which calls for a cut diagonally across the park.

Lindholm pointed out several specific objections he had to the work and asked that the "rat problem" be solved.

He told the selectmen that rats are numerous in the area and had "attacked" a child.

The town manager expressed surprise at this allegation and asked that the name of the child be given in confidence to him or to the board of health.

At the direction of the selectmen, the manager was instructed to bring the charge to the attention of the board of health and to ask for an investigation.

Bulldozers and scoops went to work in the park during the week, tore up yards of the turf and made high heaps of topsoil prior to the cutting of the big ditch to hold the pipeline.

In preparation for the construction work, large supplies of materials were delivered to the park and put in piles. These included bricks and pipes which were unloaded from trucks.

A report circulated that at least one woman resident of the neighborhood was threatening to go out and sit in front of a bulldozer to protest the work. The threat did not materialize.

Most of the complaints concerned the present damage being done to the park and future fears for what condition the brook will be in after the water has been diverted into the pipeline.

Several expressed the view that the brook should be allowed to run in its natural course and that the pipeline be used to carry off the excess when there was danger of flooding.

Manager Bowen was told by the selectmen Monday night to have the town engineer survey the situation and make a report to the board.

Bowen explained that the planning for the containing of the waters of the brook were made a number of years ago by the state and that the decisions were made prior to his administration.

'Yankee Day' Is Scheduled May 30

The spirit of Colonial days will come alive again when the Andover Historical Society celebrates "Yankee Day", Thursday May 30, rain or shine, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the grounds of the Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main St.

The major attraction will be the opening of the barn, which adjoins the historic Blanchard house, and is filled with articles reflecting our Yankee heritage and ingenuity, and all sorts of fascinating items used in a bygone era, one of which is the Grand Army Cannon.

This brass cannon was bought in the early eighteen eighties by John L. and Peter D. Smith for the use of the Grand Army of the Republic which was than a strong and active society.

The cannon was bought for the express purpose of celebrating Independence Day, July 4th. For several years it was fired in Andover Square to start off the Fourth of July celebration. This had to be stopped however after the Musgrove Building was built in 1895 because of the danger of breaking windows.

It is believed to have been fired in Lock's Field which was farther up Elm Street in the vicinity of Walnut Ave.

Apparently the last time it was intended to be fired was a failure, and the cannon was left with a full load of black powder for many years. This was discovered by Dr. Charles A. Currier, current president of the Andover Historical Society. He, together with others, unloaded the cannon in his own residence, the old Hidden House, located off Porter Rd. A two inch cannon ball, badly rusted, but the right size to fit this cannon, is owned by the Society.

There will be craft demonstrations, and delicious foods served by hostesses in early costumes to carry out the warmth and hospitality of Colonial Days.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the officers of the Society, and from all members of the "Yankee Day" Committee which includes Mrs. Ralph H. Hill, chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Currier, Mrs. Everett C. Dearborn, Mrs. Harry A. Donovan, Mrs. William V. Emmons, Mrs. Karl C. Killorin, Mrs. Edgar W. Rossig Jr., and Mrs. Joseph J. Tavern.

Andover Wins Track Meet

The Andover High School track team won the Andover Invitational Track Meet Saturday over 10 rival teams, leading Melrose 63 to 48 1/2 to take the crown for the eighth time in the nine years of the invitational meet.

The Golden Warriors' Joe Broderick was the outstanding performer. He tied the 100-yard dash school record with 10 flat, while Van DeBose set a school mark of 14.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Pete Wotjkin bettered the school mark by his 12' effort in the pole vault. Broderick, Van DeBose and the Andover 880-yard relay team set meet records.

let things stand as they are. He said those establishments which have good records would have no trouble obtaining extensions.

Member Sidney P. White was willing to go along on a trial basis to which Collins agreed. When objection continued, Collins said he would withdraw the motion, but promised to introduce it again in the near future.

SALARY PACT

Unit A, and Philip Wormwood, representing Unit B, informed the School Committee by letter at its Tuesday night meeting of their readiness to meet with the full School Committee to settle remaining issues.

Fred Fitzgerald, who has carried the burden of negotiation for the School Committee, indicated that the union representatives were agreeable to a combined meeting of both units with the School board, increasing hopes that a settlement would result.

The Committee agreed to Fitzgerald's suggestion for an executive session of the School Committee in preparation for the AEA session; Monday night was set for the executive session.

The administration, the School Committee and the AEA officials have emphasized the difficulty which the unresolved negotiations create in the hiring of teachers.

Auction At Gov. Dummer

The eighteenth-century Mansion House, now the residence of Headmaster and Mrs. Valteau Wilkde, Jr., on the campus of Governor Dummer Academy in South Byfield, has been the setting for numerous and varied functions in the course of its long history. It will provide the background for yet another activity when it is opened for a silent auction sponsored by the Governor Dummer Allies on Thursday morning, May 23, 10 a.m. to noon. The Allies, whose membership includes parents and friends and neighbors of the Academy, provide scholarship funds and library books, as well as special services in response to the needs of the school.

An added attraction will be a raffle for prizes provided through the courtesy of the Towle Silver-smiths and the Old Newbury Crafters, both of nearby Newburyport. Co-chairmen of the committee planning the auction are Mrs. Swift Barnes and Mrs. Stanley Tucker, Newburyport. Mrs. Philip Sisk, Marblehead, will direct the arrangement of items to be displayed; Mrs. Edward W. Eames, Newburyport, wife of the Academy's Headmaster Emeritus, is in charge of floral arrangements,

Memorial Hall Library

Valley Meeting

Several librarians from Memorial Hall Library joined the Ipswich meeting of the Merrimack Valley Library Association. Following a discussion of the Little Report on statewide library service, the meeting passed a resolution to send a formal letter to the Honorable Richard Sullivan, Chairman of the board of library commissioners, with a copy going to the Massachusetts Library Association. The resolution heartily endorsed the findings and suggestions of the Little Report to improve library service statewide.

Prize-winning illustrator, Ed Emberley, whose DRUMMER HOFF won the 1968 Caldecott medal for best illustrations for a child's book, spoke of his work. He explained the technical details that printing a book gets an illustrator involved in. As an example of his work he brought along a DRUMMER picture which he had done, as it happened, on a wood shingle. From shingle to book involved making separate drawings for each color, and printing plates from each. The colors are printed one at a time with the pressman being careful that the register is perfect — no fuzzy edges, for instance.

The library always buys these famous children's medal winners. Look for DRUMMER HOFF in the children's room.

Librarian to Retire

Mrs. K.C. Vint, Assistant Librarian at Memorial Hall Library for several years, will retire at the end of May.

Lab Raids MHL

Memorial Hall Library was host to 97 ninth grade students during the past week. They arrived for one-hour sessions in three groups to research the topics of their choice at the public library. Among them they took back to their schools 145 books and 150 magazines. During the next several weeks they will be working in teams of five to compile group reports to be presented to their classes before school closes.

Students from Andover West Junior High School were led by Mrs. Henry DeCesare, those from the East by James Hartmann.

Topics for research this time were seasonal — as Salmon Fishing — or perennially interesting — as drag racing and the Olympics. Or else the students wanted information about current problems such as mental retardation, juvenile delinquency, slum areas and urban renewal.

More interest was shown by these groups in modern music, natural phenomena such as hurricanes with their consequences, computer problems, movie making, and communications than the library has noted previously.

The Pooh Zoo

Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 73 have set up a papier mache zoo of animals taken from A.A. Milne's WINNIE THE POOH. The exhibit and copies of books about Pooh Bear are in the children's room at Memorial Hall Library. The girls show real talent in capturing the essence of Christopher Robin's animal friends — Piglet, Eeyore, Pooh Bear and the rest.

Make pedicures a weekly habit, especially in summer. The best time is right after a bath when the skin is softest. Here's how in four easy steps! (1) Remove old polish. File toenails straight across. (2) Soak feet in a basin of warm water. Scrub toes, heels and ankles with a soft, soapy brush. Pat dry. (3) Treat the toenail cuticle like the fingernail cuticle. Never cut it! Push it back gently with a cotton-covered orange stick. Soak toes again. (4) Apply polish, separating toes with cotton. Now you are ready to put on those pretty open sandals and show off your pretty toes! With summer approaching fast on our heel... we must remember to treat our hair with care beyond a wash and set. For complete beauty service, come to CAPITO HAIR STYLISTS, 2 Riverina Rd., Shawshen-Andover. Tel. 475-1639. Hairpieces. Conditioning and Scalp Treatments. Open Daily 9-6. Fri. 9-8.

Gardens Open For Wild Flower Tours May 25

On Saturday, May 25 (Sunday in case of rain), ten North Shore gardens will be open to the public for the New England Wild Flower Society's annual Garden Tour.

Some of the gardens were designed by well-known landscape architects. Others were developed by their owners for ease of upkeep or other special goals.

At least half are built on land which not so long ago was covered by exhausted fields and scraggy woods - a common situation today in outer suburbs. Instead of fighting nature, the owners cooperated. Rocky ledges have been converted into rock gardens, fields into woods, and existing woods into small arboretums.

Many are super-gardens, with a rose garden here, a vegetable garden there, with a wild garden, cutting garden, collection of box, or varieties of hollies. And nearly all show how native plants have a place in every garden, including the most sophisticated.

The ten gardens, arranged here in order of convenient visiting, are those of: Mrs. Ellery Sedgwick, 572 Essex St., Beverly; Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Hatch, Jr., Beverly Farms; Mr. and Mrs. Forrester C. Smith, 45 West St., Beverly Farms; Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Lothrop, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abbott, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cabot, all of Tuck's Point, Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam, Jr., Mrs. George Putnam, and Mrs. Thorvald S. Ross, all of Smith's Point, Manchester, and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Febiger, Cobb Ave., Manchester.

The hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. (if on Sunday, from noon to 5 p.m.). At each garden, a Wild Flower Society member who is an experienced gardener will be on hand to answer questions. Mrs. Luchin B. Taylor the Society's President, will hold her traditional question-and-answer period at Mrs. Ross' garden between 1 and 2 p.m. Here also picnic lunches will be eaten and coffee served.

Tickets (plus a map with brief summaries of the gardens) will be sold at each garden or may be bought in advance from the Wild Flower Society, Garden in the Woods, Hemenway Rd., Framingham, Massachusetts 01701.

NEWCOMERS TO ELECT

The Andover Newcomers Club will hold its annual installation luncheon at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn on Route 125 in N. Andover on Tuesday, May 28 at 12:30 p.m.

When the front tires roll over bumpy terrain, the front wheels act as a guide for the mower, allowing it to rise and fall and tilt from side to side. In addition, anti-scalp rollers are located under the

In The Park

At a time of year when most homeowners are busy smoothing the winter lumps out of their lawns and puttering around to make their yards attractive, the park in front of the East Junior High School is getting pretty badly chewed up.

It's all part of the Rogers Brook project and for a good many weeks townspeople are going to be inconvenienced to a degree by the operations.

The work is being carried on by the state. The brook is to be piped and enclosed so as to prevent flooding such as occurs from time to time.

The original plan, made some eight years ago, was to have the pipes run along the bed of the brook. Engineers later found that this would be very expensive as well as very difficult from a construction standpoint. As a result, the pipeline's course was changed so that it now cuts diagonally across the park which at this time of year is indeed very attractive, or was before the scoops began their work.

The rich topsoil is being stored in piles until such time as it is again restored, seeded and rolled into a new grass carpet. The piles of soil and the trenches across the lawns have given the park a pretty scarred look.

In addition, it has been found that there are several large trees in the path of the pipeline which will have to be cut down. Town officials have already received protests over this phase of the job, but there isn't much that can be done they say. When the job is finished, new trees will be planted to replace those cut down.

According to present plans, the bed of the present brook in the park will be left as it is and will not be filled in. It will serve to carry off surface water and will continue to add to the aesthetic appearance of the park, town officials say.

Rogers brook has presented some thorny problems over the years and it seems that the end is not yet in sight. The present segment of the pipeline is just another phase of the work. Another section is to follow and this may not be constructed for several years.

Townspeople who are distressed at the marring of the park, those who will be inconvenienced when a section of Main Street is closed — and this will be hardest on the merchants — will have to show a lot of patience and understanding until the job has been completed.

Annual Event

Hundreds turned out for the Conservation Day program last Saturday at the Recreation Park. The event was sponsored by the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS) with much assistance being given by other organizations, including the Boy and Girl Scouts.

A lot of town officials were in attendance and they were impressed.

At Monday's selectmen's meeting, Chairman Philip K. Allen expressed his delight with the program he attended and then suggested that this be an annual event officially sponsored by the town.

His colleagues agreed with him without hesitation and an annual Andover Conservation Day came into being to be sponsored by the selectmen.

AVIS is to be congratulated on inaugurating this nature project and so are the selectmen for voting to make it a permanent Springtime event in Andover.

Lock The Car

Every city and town in the Commonwealth will join in a campaign to lower the rate of automobile thefts in Massachusetts. This state has a record of car thefts twice that of the national average.

Massachusetts Public Safety Commissioner Leo L. Laughlin is directing the drive which is being conducted by the New England Citizens Crime Commission, The U.S. Justice Department, The Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association and the State Police.

Drivers are blamed for not locking their cars and making them easy prey for car thieves, many of them teenagers. This area has its share of stolen cars, many of them involved in accidents.

Commissioner Laughlin says that 78 per cent of all stolen cars are unlocked and 42 per cent either have the keys in them or the ignition on.

Assisting with this drive isn't very hard. All it requires is to see that the car you are driving is locked before you walk away from it.

To the Editor:

"Mommy why is there a bridge here?"

"It crosses Rogers' Brook."

"But I don't see any brook."

"Of course not — it is in a big pipe underneath the grass, where all brooks obviously belong."

"Why was it put there Mommy?"

"Because it was a bad brook."

It flooded over occasionally and messed up people's basements. Once a man fell into it, and that can't be tolerated. They might have kept the brook and put the overflow underground, but that isn't the proper way to punish a brook."

"Mommy why are these trees in the middle of the park so much smaller than the others?"

"They had to dig a hole to put the pipe in and some trees had to go."

"Couldn't they have missed the trees?"

"Well perhaps, but an engineer figured it all out and engineers figure in straight lines not in trees. He was hired by the state and he knew more about straight lines than you or I know."

"Mommy, didn't anybody love the park enough to object?"

"There were a few, but it took seven years after the town decided to punish the brook to dig the ditch and by then everyone either forgot or were sick of the brook and the park, and who wants to be a permissive parent anyway? The brook had to be punished."

"Mommy who was Roger?"

To the Editor:

Many of my friends and I think that wrecking the park is horrible. What use is it to have a nice stone bridge over dirt? Sure, kids can play on the dirt piles now, but what fun will it be when the plan is carried out? Will we have to say to visitors, "That's where the park was. Time For Checking Water Safety

More than 40 million Americans will seek fun in the sun through water sports this summer, but only a fraction of them will know how to get the most out of swimming.

"Learning how to swim is the first rule for enjoying yourself in the water," says James J. Kennedy, YMCA Aquatic Director. "It's easy, it's fun and the best time to learn is now," he suggests.

He points out that about half of the 7,000 swimmers who drowned last year were in the water by themselves. "Even good swimmers," reminds Kennedy, "use the buddy system. Make sure you and your kids use it also."

Reviewing other techniques developed by the YMCA through 80 years of swimming know-how, Kennedy warns swimmers about stunts and antics and taking unnecessary chances in the water.

"Comedians belong on the stage, not in the water, where they may find themselves unexpectedly injured," says Kennedy, "so stay away from water wrestlers and don't worry about getting applause from spectators."

"One should swim only at those beaches and pools protected by trained lifeguards who have the proper rescue equipment," he adds. "At private pools, a skilled swimmer should always be near, and the pool should be fenced in and locked when not in use."

Obedience warning signs is a good swimming habit too, says Kennedy. He emphasizes the importance of heeding signs telling of shallow water, strong currents, debris and especially pollution.

A strong warning for parents: "Keep your eye on the kids at all times," says the Y director, "for they can slip out of sight very easily. Be especially aware of them if they're using inner tubes, or other aids. These could carry them to deep water."

"Don't be dared into a race you might not finish," he continues. "Know your limitation. That means not trying to swim farther or longer than you safely can."

"If danger comes, keep calm," says the YMCA expert. "Take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy and float. Try to grab onto something until help arrives."

He emphasizes the need for would-be heroes to exercise caution when they hear cries for help. "You should call for help also," he warns, adding, "don't attempt a life-saving mission unless you are a practiced swimmer skilled in life-saving techniques. It's less dramatic, but more effective to try to reach the person with a pole, rope or clothing rather than to swim towards him."

If emergency artificial respiration is required, the YMCA recommends the mouth-to-mouth method because it is effective, simple and easy to learn.

But the Y director hopes that it won't be necessary to use the mouth-to-mouth or any other method.

"Swimming relaxes you, is an easy means of exercising, and it toughens the body. But to get the most out of this healthful activity, you've got to have the basic skills and a knowledge of common-sense safety rules," says Kennedy.

Hamblin Portrait For New Library

Over 150 members of the Punched Andover Alumni Association gathered at Briarcliff Friday night for the annual Spring Frolic of the organization.

Tables were decorated with blue and gold centerpieces in the form of Maypoles. Luncheon was served at 11:30 p.m.

During the evening the members enjoyed socializing and dancing.

Highlight of the occasion was when Dorothy E. Towne, president and general chairman introduced past president Irving E. Whitcomb who announced that William Abbott Cheever, class of 1925, an accomplished professional artist has been commissioned to provide a portrait of the late Nathan C. Hamblin, principal of Punched Free School and Punched High School from the early 1900's to 1941.

The portrait will be hung in the new Andover High School library which is to be dedicated to the Nathan C. Hamblin Memorial Library in the near future.

Artist Cheever is the son of the late William B. Cheever who was tax collector in Andover for many years. He is now a resident of New Hampshire and was a surprise guest at the Alumni Association Frolic. Known among his friends as "Hank" he spoke briefly at the Briarcliff party and expressed the opinion that students who had known the late Principal Hamblin were indeed fortunate. He said he was one of the great educators in the school's history.

President Towne announced that the annual meeting and dinner dance will be held at the Andover Country Club on Saturday, Nov. 9.

School to accommodate the 450 Bancroft-destined pupils, whose building is not expected to be ready in September. Delay in the shipment of beams has thrown Bancroft off schedule, and School Committee members greeted reports that the first of four beam shipments was finally coming Wednesday with a variety of suggestions, as to a reception committee.

Vaughn I. Clapp, assistant superintendent for elementary schools, requested the public information meeting. He said that last week's PTA meeting proved that parents still had plenty of questions about the bases for decision for double sessions, and the schedule and programs that would result in the fall, and that last week's PTA meeting had ended before these could be answered.

Clapp said he felt that the School Committee and the Administration should make themselves available to the interested public, to inform them as fully as possible. He suggested a meeting with an agenda, discussion, and a printed information sheet for all who attend. The School Committee agreed to run such a meeting on Tuesday, May 28.

Transportation problems of double sessions were discussed at the School Committee meeting. A committee decision was made to bus all Bancroft children all the way home after their afternoon session, instead of dropping them off at the usual central gathering points. This is to avoid having any children walking home in the early dusk of late fall. Committeeman William King pointed out that many buses are available at this time of day, which will facilitate getting the afternoon children home quickly.

Conscience is that still small voice that, after all these years, is still small.

Chess Series

Due to the popularity of a similar program last year, a new series of six weekly sessions on chess instruction will be offered beginning Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Christ Church parish house in Andover. All interested beginners and intermediate players are invited to attend. This program is co-sponsored by the North Andover Merrimack Chess Club and the Lawrence Chess Club, and five experienced match players from these clubs will act as instructors.

The program is designed to encourage the many younger chess players in the area to become more proficient in the game, although adults are also welcome. A year ago a similar program at Merrimack College drew over 30 participants, and some 25 pages of free handout material were distributed to each participant in the various sessions.

Topical coverage for the series includes two sessions on "End Game" play, one on the "Middle Game," and two on well-known Openings. Prizes are awarded for the "Most Improved Player," and for the "Highest Scorer" on a chess applications quiz given in the last session. A knowledge of how the pieces are moved is assumed at the start, but an interested observer can easily acquire this skill. Further information can be obtained from Sidney Phillips, 18 Rennie Dr.,

Lutherans Meet At Hartford

The Rev. Hartland H. Gifford and Kenneth L. Clouse will represent Faith Lutheran Church of Andover at the seventh annual convention of the New England Synod, Lutheran Church in America, when it meets in Hartford, Conn., May 19-22.

Clergy and delegates from some 150 congregations throughout the six-state region will gather for the three-day convocation to hear reports and consider other church-related matters.

Among the highlights of the convention will be the ordination of five young men into the Holy Ministry at service on Tuesday at Emanuel Lutheran Church, Hartford. Preacher for the service will be Dr. Krister Stendahl, New Testament Professor at Harvard, and an ordained Lutheran minister of the Church of Sweden.

The convention is expected to re-elect the Rev. Raymond Kask of Norwood, Mass., as Synod secretary, a post he has held since 1962.

The Rev. Mr. Gifford will attend the convention as a clerical delegate and also as editor of "The New England Lutheran," the official newspaper of the New England Synod.

Several social issues related to the racial crisis, Vietnam, and Red China are up for discussion. It is expected that certain statements will be referred to the church-at-large for its consideration when it meets in Atlanta, Georgia, June 19-27.

Five men lived for a month in 1963 in a shelter 36 feet below the surface of the Red Sea.

Problems Committee Reports

A small committee appointed after the January drug abuse curriculum day at the high school has reported back to Superintendent Edward I. Erickson with specific recommendations for the school curriculum, and for formation of a Community Committee, which will begin to function next week.

The subcommittee, which began discussing "problem areas in the community two months ago, marks two areas for top priority: (1) that Sex and Family Living should be a regular part of classroom teaching, grades 1-12, correlated with a community-wide program for all ages, (2) that a course in Values and Attitudes be a regular part of the school curriculum, grades 1-12.

The subcommittee has recommended that the Community Committee be a resource for programs dealing with "challenges to sound community health and living." It should include broad interest areas and groups within the community, religious and non-religious, academic and non-academic, and provide an arena for adults and youth to exchange facts and ideas, as well as dealing with problem areas in the community.

The Committee, which Erickson said will probably be a nine-member committee with a larger advisory committee, is expected to organize next week.

Music Students Are Engaged

At a recent family dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Webster I. Woodworth, 289 N. Main St., announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan Dawn, to William Daniel Von Gillern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond David Von Gillern of Morton Grove, Ill.

Miss Woodworth is a 1966 graduate of Abbot Academy, where she was the winner of the Phillips Award for the most improvement in Latin. She is a sophomore in the School of Music at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. where she is studying for a degree in church music.

Mr. Von Gillern is a 1965 graduate of Miles North High School, Skokie, Ill. and is a junior in the Music School at Northwestern, where he is majoring in music education.

The couple were also feted at a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Towne, 21 Arundel St., where Mr. Von Gillern was inducted into the Great White Council.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Mrs. Virginia Hammond was reappointed an associate member of the Zoning Board of Appeals by unanimous vote of the board of selectmen Monday night.

The reappointment of Mrs. Hammond was held up in April when many other appointive positions were filled. At that time, Selectman William Stewart introduced the name of John Hardy into nomination. The matter was left unresolved through several other meetings until Monday night.

Selectman Roger Collins made a motion to reappoint Mrs. Hammond. Stewart said that during the last several weeks, Hardy had decided that he did not want the appointment and asked that his name be withdrawn. In the wake of this announcement, the board proceeded with the reappointment.

SORORITY MEETING

The A.P.C. Sorority of South Church will hold its Annual Meeting on Thursday, May 23, at 6:30 p.m. at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School. Dinner reservations may be made through Mrs. Grant Burwell.

Edythe Chalifour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Chalifour of South Main St., will receive her diploma from the Academie Moderne School for Fashion Careers on May 29, in the Princess Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset, Boston, at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Eleanor Lambert, noted international fashion authority from New York City, will deliver the commencement address. She will also receive the "Millie," a fashion award presented to an outstanding fashion personality in the country.

Edythe will participate in a fashion show, Spirit of '68, written and produced by the members of the graduating class.

Theatre Group To Perform Here

On Saturday evening, May 25, the Om Theater Workshop of Boston will perform the play, "Riot", at the West Junior High School cafeteria, Shawheen Rd. There will be two performances, one at 8 p.m., and the second at 10 p.m.

"Riot", directed by Julie A. Portman and created and conceived by the Om Theater Workshop, has been widely acclaimed by Boston critics since it was first performed in December, 1967. "Boston After Dark," a weekly publication of critical review, selected it as the Number One Play for 1967 produced by a professional resident Boston company.

Using techniques of improvisation, mime, sound, smell and remarkable choreography, "Riot" actually involves the audience in the shattering emotions of a riot. The focus of the play is on a symposium of black and white panel members, presumably sitting together to discuss the racial crisis. As the dialogue between the black militant, the black liberal, the white conservative, and the white liberal breaks down, the result is growing violence. The message is clear that a communications breakdown between these factions of society is at the core of the disruption in our cities.

"Riot" is a social as well as a theatrical experience, and because its impact is so great, the audience is invited to West Parish Church after each performance for impromptu discussion and free refreshments. Tickets are available in Andover at the Andover Bookstore and Thompson's, and in Lawrence at the Jewish Community Center.

The ad hoc committee in charge of bringing "Riot" to Andover includes: Rev. Norman E. Dubie and Mrs. William G. Scheerer, co-chairmen; Mrs. Louis Lander and Mrs. David H. Simonds, publicity; Mrs. Kenneth Fitzgerald, refreshments; also, Rev. J. Everett Bodge, Rev. Robert Bosdorf, Mrs. Edward Lenoe, Rev. J. Edison Pike, and Mrs. Herman Rockwag.

(Murray)

Lynch - Estell

Miss Bette Jeanne Estell, daughter of Mrs. Esther M. Estell, 55 Woodland Rd., and the late Mr. Lyle F. Estell became the bride of Mr. J. Kevin Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lynch, 19 Vine St., at St. Augustines Church on Sunday, April 28 at 3 o'clock. Rev. James Wenzel and Rev. Earl B. Robinson performed the double ring ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and white pom daisies decorated the altar.

Approaching the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Malcolm Estell, the bride was gownned in white silk organza, Empire styled with elbow length sleeves. The portrait neckline and skirt were bordered with Alencon lace, the high waist line featured a front bow encrusted with seed pearls. Her four tiered illusion veil was attached to a head piece of seed pearls and drop crystals. A detachable chapel length Watteau train enhanced the back of the gown.

She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses, white daisies and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Malcolm Estell, sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Lynne Estell was flower girl for her aunt, both were attired in peach with matching head pieces and carried cascades of white daisies and ivy.

Miss Barbara Stocks, cousin of the bride, served as Junior bridesmaid with Miss Patricia Lynch, Miss Joan McEneaney and Mrs. William Cole as bridesmaids. All were attired in soft green, wearing matching veiled head pieces and carried cascades of yellow daisies and ivy.

Mr. Laurence Lynch performed best man duties for his brother and the ushers were, Mrs. Ronald Estell, Mr. Stephen Bamford, and Mr. Gordon Douglas.

Following a reception at Briarcliff, the couple left on a wedding trip to the White Mountains.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Andover High School, attended Pierce Secretarial School and is presently affiliated with the Andover branch of the Arlington Trust Co.

The bridegroom, a member of the Andover Police Department, was graduated from Andover High School, Class of 1963 and has completed three years of active Army service.

The new home will be at 54 Salem St.

Commendations And Reports On School Committee Agenda

The School Committee handed out commendations right and left Tuesday night: to the cast, director, orchestra and musical director of the high school's production of "Oklahoma!" to Katherine O'Connor and Scott Currier, the high school's silver medal winners in the Speech Festival at the University of Massachusetts, to the East Junior High School for the quality of its art exhibit hung for ten days in the Addison Gallery at Phillips Academy, and to both junior high schools for their science fairs.

The Schoolmen then discussed the editorial policy of "Your Schools", the school department's informational bulletin sent to parents, with its editor, Louis Annese, and heard reports on a variety of issues from members.

Annese saw the role of "Your Schools" as promoting information about programs of the school department, and especially to define and explain new programs. He gave articles on dyslexia, Great Books, ungraded schooling as examples to the public. In his opinion, it should not be a place to carry on a debate or promote one side of an issue, but should concern itself with explaining programs which the School Committee has adopted as policy.

The result of 15 minutes of discussion was a strengthening of the hand of the editor by the School Committee, which defined the editorial policy as "to inform the public and to explain current and projected school programs which have become School Committee policy. They gave the editor license to solicit articles informing the public about school programs and to accept, reject, edit and delete material submitted.

Articles may be written by members of the administration, or the School Committee for that matter, after checking them out with the rest of the committee.

Member William King, reporting to the rest of the committee on his discussions with town officials, with Supervisor of General Services Jack Berberian, advised them that "there seems little doubt that a uniform purchasing procedure for the town (including the school department) is advisable. Stating that Town Manager, Richard J. Bowen has expended considerable effort to streamline and simplify procedures for the town departments, King advised switching to the town's purchasing forms and said he felt the school department could adjust easily to the town form which Bowen plans to present soon.

Absorption of the school system accounting into the town accounting function is another matter, according to King. He saw two problems - that the town's procedures have not completed their mechanization, and second, that school department records require such an amount of detail, peaking in June and July, to meet state requirements, that they may tax the capability of the town's NCR 500 to provide account subdivision. King said that since the town machine is presently unable to encumber accounts on a routine basis because of a manpower shortage in the accounting department, they are certainly understaffed to take on any new accounting responsibilities now, and time will tell whether the machine can provide the detailed accounting required on school department records. He recommended that the school department continue its present accounting system for now.

TROOP 100

Certificates will be awarded Friday night by Cub Scout Troop 100 to Cubs who are going to be Boy Scouts. The program is at the Sanborn School at 7 p.m.

Roxbury Mothers, Welfare Agents In Equal Opportunity Panel Here

The president of the Roxbury-based Mothers for Adequate Welfare, which last summer focussed national attention on the point of view of those who receive public assistance, will join a panel entitled "Welfare, - Hope or Despair" on May 22, sponsored by the Andover Citizens for Equal Opportunity.

Mrs. Doris Bland, president, and Mrs. Elsie Jemmott, a member of MAW with ties in the Andover community, will join George Shipley, Andover's Director of Public Assistance, and a representative of the state department of welfare for the panel discussion. The public is invited to the Wednesday meeting, at 8 p.m. in the Underwood Room of Phillips Academy, off Chapel Ave.

The group of townspeople holding weekly meetings to study the Kerner Report on Civil Disorders has decided to attend the AC/EO panel on welfare Wednesday, instead of holding its regular Tuesday evening meeting at the library.

"Welfare programs and their administration will be a big issue in the 1968 Campaign," said Mr. Thomas Lyons, program chairman for AC/EO and moderator for the planned meeting. "With the Poor Peoples March on Washington taking place right now, we should all try to learn more about the issues and attitudes involved."

Mr. Shipley is expected to outline the welfare needs and programs of the Town of Andover against the background of the forthcoming takeover of all welfare programs by the state. Taxpayers have already been alerted to the impact this change is making in the state budget, and the ways in which this money is being spent will be covered by a representative from the Commonwealth. At the same time, Mrs. Bland and Mrs. Jemmott will present their point of view that many of the real needs of welfare recipients have apparently never been met.

Before the panel discussion there will be a brief business meeting of AC/EO including nomination and election of officers and a report on the funds recently raised to support the Negro voter registration drive in Mississippi.

Several summer activities programs in the civil rights field will also be announced.

The hippies are certainly efficient gardeners - they wear the flowers and smoke the weeds.
